Artist Statement*

I am an artist who is passionate about helping to build a more sustainable world. I try to re-use, re-cycle and re-purpose found objects into unique expressions of art.

Archetypes or images that appeal to the collective unconscious inspire me to explore the mystery of form by conjuring up original ideas from the depths of my experiences.

The vibrant presence in people and plants strangely affects our mood. Intuition plays a major role in bringing forth the "Spirit Portraits" in my paintings of people and their pets.

I created my Abundance Goddess Sculptures to evoke an artifact-like quality. Each Goddess piece represents a contemporary image. Each one incorporates hidden meanings suggested by their figural curves.

These goddesses are meant to spark creativity, invoke fertility and awaken within oneself the deeper mysteries of the universe.

The "YogaWave Infinity" Goddess meditates atop a cresting wave. Her figure-eight shape of infinity symbolizes abundance.

The "Venus Mermaid Riding the Wave" Goddess embodies one's ability to stand tall upon the wave-like depths of our emotions. The "BP Oil Spill Mermaid" was conceived as a thought-provoking protest.

I share with the viewer the wild curiosities of a winding path through majestic mountains on "The Road to Taos" in this continuing series. "Descansos", one of the subjects from this series, are unique roadside "Remembrances" from this area. They are constructed by locals to commemorate their loved ones who died by the roadside.
